

You ate some brains this week.
If you think that was a good plan,
let me know. I'll shoot you myself

Sometimes I don't remember so good, but I was wild and... and free, you know? Going balls to the wall like nothing else mattered. On a terminal buzz twenty-four seven.

I understand. You're having euphoric recall. You're remembering the good parts, but not the bad ones.

It was so great!

What about your family?

That part was great, too!.... Oh, shit. That's awful, isn't it?

You killed and ate them.

Yeah. I'm ashamed.

Thank you

Did you get to interview La Befana?

I mean, cleaned the houses before she left. That makes me nervous.

And we're going to try to do a thing with Bloody Larry. By remote. Through sealed doors.

I don't think Dad expects anything to come of it, but it's an experiment.

Oh, and Eddie, of course. He's my "practice visit."

I'm not sure I'm up to Mrs. Chow yet.

How do you suppose they feel about being training exercises?

Not just training, chica. Dad's a big believer in alternate perspectives.

Mind, he reserves the right to ignore them.

It's still gamma densensitization training.

You don't have to do Ms. Kelly?

You lucky dog.

She liked me. In the high school sense.

Dad just put her on the list.

How did you know?

Voice of Experience.

Look, if you need to not come in Thursday--not that you will--I'll cover the last two days.

'k?

That's my favorite thing I've ever read, now. So thanks!

You're welcome. I'm totally going to wind up with a coffeeborne sinus infection.

 pnkrokhockeymom

January 27 2008, 18:58:35 UTC

COLLAPSE

Maybe not. Does topical application of caffeine to mucosa reduce inflammation? If so, it's probably just in and out.

Unless, of course, you actually go whole hog and fully aspirate the stuff, and end up with some fancy-schmancy pneumonia no one's ever heard of. Then all bets are off.

trollcatz

COLLAPSE

Little known fact! Most common cause of death among third-shift first responders.

Aspirated coffee.

 pnkrokhockeymom

January 27 2008, 19:02:07 UTC

COLLAPSE

Really??? That's oddly unsurprising, once you think about it.

I aspirate everything. It's because I never stop talking, so I try to take breaths and sips at the same time.

trollcatz

January 27 2008, 19:05:53 UTC

COLLAPSE

No, not really. ;)

 pnkrokhockeymom

January 27 2008, 19:07:35 UTC

COLLAPSE

Oh!

(I should tell you -- or maybe now I don't have to -- that in addition to the aspiration thing, I'm really, really gullible. UNBELIEVABLY gullible. I have a rep. :))

And I'm a horrible tease.

This could be the beginning of the end of life on earth as we know it.

Well, my guard's up now with you. You're on my watch list!!! (Not that wariness has ever been of any use to me in the past. There's always a way around it.).

Sometimes, when someone tricks me and really has me going, and then they give up the goods, I laugh and choke and then aspirate, and choke some more, thereby combining both of my remarkable qualities into one experience.

Fortunately, I'm a trained EMT-Paramedic. Unfortunately, there's this internet in the way.

Try not to die, please.

Promise. :) No dying today. Laundry, juevos rancheros, and cozy book reading.

Sadly, the general population is lacking the recommended daily allowance of brains. It's easier to just eat vitamins.

There are places in the midwest where you can buy fried fresh pork brains.

I suspect that's the sort of town where Duke grew up.

As a midwesterner, and an Iowegian in particular, I hereby disown ANYONE who offers someone From Off fried pork brains. This is retroactive. gag
